Bessie Catherine Hershberger
Miss Bessie Catherine Hershberger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hershberger, died at the home of her parents at Cessna, Thursday, November 9, after a lingering illness. She was aged 22 years, 4 months and 2 days. She was a faithful member of St. Paul's Reformed church and served as organist in the Church for a number of years. She was of a cheerful disposition and won the esteem and admiration of everyone with whom she came in contact. Her illness she bore patiently and bravely, never murmured nor complained, but always tried to be cheerful in the midst of her suffering. The funeral services were held in St. Paul's Reformed church Sunday afternoon.

Francis R. Dively
Francis R. Dively, one of the early settlers of the Shuhsdale community, died at his home seven miles south-west of this village, Sunday morning, October 22, after an illness of some time.

Mr. Dively was born in Bedford county, Pennsylvania, September 13, 1814, and was seventy-two years, one month and nine days old at the time of his death.
He grew to manhood near the old home in Pennsylvania and on October 30, 1864 was married to Miss Catherine Beard of the same place. In 1874 they came to Nebraska, settling in Otoe county, and during their long residence here have resided in the same neighborhood. There were born to this worthy couple four children, one daughter and three sons: Mary, Calvin, Jacob and Harry. All of whom, with the mother are living at, or near, the old home place. There are also four grandchildren, two boys and two girls. Besides the immediate family he leaves to mourn his death five brothers and one sister. Three brothers and the sister live near the old home in Pennsylvania, one brother in Michigan and one in Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Dively were among the early pioneers of this vicinity, coming here when the country was new and braved all of the trials and hardships incident to the transforming of a wilderness to the prosperous country as we see it today. By hard work and thrifty habits these people have acquired a competency which means for them the comforts of life in declining years.

Mr. Dively was honored and respected by all who knew him best and his death will be deeply felt in this community.

The funeral was held Tuesday October 24th, from the family home and interment was made in the Hopewell cemetery, services being conducted by Rev. Brethouwer, of that church.

Music was furnished by the Miesbach young people.
The deceased was a brother of Mrs. Ella Imbler and Adam G. Dively of Bedford, Herman and Albert of Bedford township, Richard M. of Grand Rapids, Mich., and Geo. W. of Cincinnati, Ohio.

WOODROW WILSON PARADE

Saturday, November 18, 1916, at 1.30 p. m., the supporters of Woodrow Wilson and all others advocates of peace and prosperity will celebrate the decisive victory of November 7th, by a parade and speeches in Bedford. All are welcome to take part. You can ride a donkey, if you want, come in an auto, use a horse or walk. The thing to do is to get into the parade. Be loyal to the cause. This is your victory and you ought to show it. It means the downfall of Wall Street and great corporate interests and why not show your colors and appreciation.

We are going to have a donkey to lead the parade. Big feature from Hyndman to represent the 8-hour day, Tally-ho, Boy Scouts, 40 girls dressed in white under J. P. Cuppett, representing the states carried by Wilson, Wolfburg, Charlottesville, Bedford, Hyndman, New Paris, Saxton, Robinsonville, Salemville and Osterburg bands, and many other features.

Mr. Ross A. Silvers will be marshal and J. F. Mickle, Joseph Souser, J. Roy Cessna, Calvin Otto, William Koozt, Milton Enfield and Dr. H. R. Brightbill, aides.
The committee on arrangements are R. A. Silver, H. R. Brightbill, W. F. Enfield, W. S. Reed, John P. Cuppett, Jo. W. Tate, J. Roy Cessna, A. B. Egolf, John Fletcher and B. B. Mower.

TO PROBE G. O. P. FUNDS
U. S. Investigators on Trail of Federal Law Violators.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 13.—United States District Attorneys and special investigators of the Department of Justice are on the trail of people who have violated the Federal laws by contributing and using money to aid Mr. Hughes in his race for the Presidency, and various candidates for the Senate and House.

Nine States—New York, Illinois, Ohio, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Indiana, Michigan, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia—are being gone over with fine-tooth combs by Department of Justice agents. The facts gathered will be presented to grand juries. Leading Democrats of those States are preparing the evidence.

The following named cities are being covered for violations in campaign contributions: New York, Chicago, Indianapolis, Cincinnati, Detroit, Boston, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. Representatives of the Department of Justice tonight refused to discuss the statement from Chicago that railroad heads, bankers and other corporations' officials have been summoned to present their books to grand juries in five big cities, but the cities in question are said to be New York, Chicago, Detroit, Cincinnati and Indianapolis. Great drives were made in those places, and much money collected by the Republicans.

It is estimated that the Republicans spent $5,000,000 in an effort to elect Hughes, and that they got $3,000,000 of that in New York during the last week of the campaign. The Democrats claim that $1,200,000 were spent in New York. The statement was made by the New York World correspondent today that $800,000 were set aside by the Republican leaders to be used in "getting the labor vote."

Money of the Republicans was distributed as follows:
New York State, $1,200,000; Connecticut, $250,000; Ohio, $500,000; Indiana, $300,000, and Illinois, $500,000.

Much money was collected in Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Indianapolis and Cincinnati.

In New York, Indiana and West Virginia the Republicans put forth great efforts to win United States Senatorships. Democrats in Washington tonight believe that President Wilson is entitled to the vote of West Virginia and that a recount would show it.

MENTIONED IN BRIEF

Town Talk and Neighborhood Notes Tersely Told

MANY ITEMS OF INTEREST

Gleaned From Various Sources—Little Points Picked Up By Vigilant Reporters

There are now 24 dry states in the United States.

A. B. Eegoli is confined to his home suffering from a sprained foot.
Mr. S. S. Claycomb of Tyrone, Representative of E. W. Rothrock Co., Tyrone, Pa., called at our office last Friday to express his feeling in the Presidential contest. He seemed much "delighted" over Wilson's reelection.

Rev. J. Albert Eyer of Bedford will preach in the Reformed Church at New Buena Vista on next Sunday afternoon, November 19th, at 3.30 o'clock. A meeting of the Joint Consistory of the Schellsburg charge will be held immediately after the service.

All adult blind persons of Pennsylvania who are in favor of a pension for the blind are requested to address a plain postal card, written in ink, to Mr. A. P. Davis, 533 Broad Way, McKees Rocks, Pa., stating that they are blind and in favor of a pension for the blind. Write your name and address plainly.

The jurors for this week and next week were excused. This is a great saving to the county of at least $600.
We are pleased to know that Mr. Birch Ober of New Enterprise was one of the judges in a butter contest at the National Dairy Show at Springfield, Mass. And that he helped to bring more than $300 first prize money to Penna. State College. State led the field by more than 200 points over South Dakota the nearest competitor.

Miss Jeanette Rankin, of Montana is the first woman to have ever been elected to Congress in the United States. A great deal of discussion is taking place because of the fact that the Constitution of the United States requires the person elected to Congress to be a citizen of the district from which he is chosen. It is now argued by many that Miss Rankin will not be allowed to take her seat because of the uncertainty as to whether a woman is a citizen or not and that the Constitution uses the masculine personal pronoun which seems to exclude women as members.

It's a fact that you can start at Baltimore, Md., and travel almost due west to San Francisco, Cal., and not hit a state that Hughes has carried. And you can take the same trip and set your foot on dry territory all the way through. In other words, Wilson carried all the dry states with the exception of West Virginia and a few of the wet states. And the majority of the Hughes states are wet. The Prohibition map and the Democratic map are parallel or about one and the same thing. While the Republican map and the saloon map are parallel or about one and the same thing.

Mrs. Francis Amos
Mrs. Sallie Amos, widow of Francis M. Amos, former register and recorder of this county, died suddenly at her home on North Richard street, about 8 o'clock Tuesday morning.

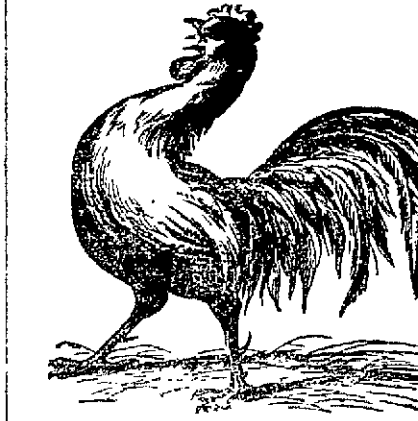

Mrs. Amos who was Miss Sallie Boor, was aged about 70 years and was born in this section.

Surviving are two sons, John, of Charlotte, N. Y., and Harry V. of Seaside Heights, New Jersey, one daughter, Mrs. Virginia Casteel, of this place, and two sisters, Mrs. Ella Lysinger, of near Bedford and Mrs. Emma Stuffer, of Elkins, W. Va.

The funeral services will be held Friday, at 2 o'clock at her home, conducted by the Rev. G. W. Faus, of the Methodist Church, her pastor. Interment in the Bedford cemetery.

Miss Fannie Oppenheimer left Tuesday for Chicago.

WILSON VICTORY WITHOUT AID OF NEW YORK PLEASES BRYAN

Says Result Will Remove the Issue Against Progressive Party.

Denver, Col., Nov. 11.—(AP)—J. Bryan, who was here yesterday, made the following comment on the result of the election:

"A Democratic President has been elected without the aid of New York and that is something new in American politics. While it would have relieved anxiety during the last thirty-six hours to have had the vote of New York in the Democratic column, still, since we did not get the New York support, we may as well get all the consolation out of it that we can."

"The fact that New York was supposed to be necessary has been a restraining influence on wide progressive legislation during previous administrations. President Wilson was the first President in many years who has been Independent of Wall Street, and it is greatly to the credit of States west of the Alleghenies that they can appreciate and regard independence."

On prohibition, Bryan said the constitutional amendment was adopted in Nebraska by 30,000 or more, only eight counties in the State voting wet. He continued:

"The fact that several new States have been added to the prohibition column has given decided impetus to the movement. This reform, like every other obtained in the last twenty years, is moving from the West and South to the North and East. National prohibition will be an acute issue four years hence unless the amendment is submitted to the States before the time which is possible."

James Alexander
James Alexander, of Bedford, died Wednesday morning, November 8, at 12.15 at the home of Mrs. Amick, of Loysburg, from an aneurism of the heart. Mr. Alexander was born in 1814 and when the call came for soldiers for the Civil war he enlisted in August 1, 1862 in the 13th Pennsylvania volunteers and served a short time until he with others received his discharge May 28, 1863. By his courage and bravery he enlisted again, February 18, 1864, in the 55th regiment Pennsylvania volunteers, and received his discharge again August 30, 1865. Mr. Croyle shortly after the war was united in marriage to Miss Sara A. Mikel, October 22, 1868, who died in the year 1873. He was again married August 23, 1874, to Miss Elizabeth Snyder, of Snake Spring valley. To the last wife were born six children—Jessie, Ephraim, Mrs. Mary Amick, and Lydia Croyle, all deceased; Mrs. Teeter, of Curryville, and Mrs. J. W. Amick of Loysburg, are the two left to mourn the loss of their kind and loving father, their mother having died in 1902. Mr. Croyle had made his home with his daughter, Mrs. J. W. Amick for a number of years and was a very fine neighbor and friend to all. He was a lifelong Republican and always was very true to his party. Funeral services were held Friday morning, at 10.30, in the Bethel church at Waterside, conducted by Rev. D. M. Vanhorn, of Snake Spring Valley, assisted by Rev. Herman Guyer of New Enterprise.

Mr. Croyle shortly after the war was united in marriage to Miss Sara A. Mikel, October 22, 1868, who died in the year 1873. He was again married August 23, 1874, to Miss Elizabeth Snyder, of Snake Spring valley. To the last wife were born six children—Jessie, Ephraim, Mrs. Mary Amick, and Lydia Croyle, all deceased; Mrs. Teeter, of Curryville, and Mrs. J. W. Amick of Loysburg, are the two left to mourn the loss of their kind and loving father, their mother having died in 1902. Mr. Croyle had made his home with his daughter, Mrs. J. W. Amick for a number of years and was a very fine neighbor and friend to all. He was a lifelong Republican and always was very true to his party. Funeral services were held Friday morning, at 10.30, in the Bethel church at Waterside, conducted by Rev. D. M. Vanhorn, of Snake Spring Valley, assisted by Rev. Herman Guyer of New Enterprise.

James Alexander
James Alexander, of Bedford, died Wednesday morning, November 8, at 12.15 at the home of Mrs. Amick, of Loysburg, from an aneurism of the heart. Mr. Alexander was born in 1814 and when the call came for soldiers for the Civil war he enlisted in August 1, 1862 in the 13th Pennsylvania volunteers and served a short time until he with others received his discharge May 28, 1863. By his courage and bravery he enlisted again, February 18, 1864, in the 55th regiment Pennsylvania volunteers, and received his discharge again August 30, 1865. Mr. Croyle shortly after the war was united in marriage to Miss Sara A. Mikel, October 22, 186

Official Vote of Bedford County for 1916

There are thousands of children who are bright but frail—not sick but underdeveloped—they play with their food—they catch colds easily and do not thrive—they only need the pure, rich liquid-food in to start them growing and keep them going. Children relish SCOTT'S and it carries rare nutritive qualities to their blood streams and gives them flesh-food, bone-food and strength-food. Nothing harmful in SCOTT'S.

Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J.

Children Cry for Fletcher's CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Dr. H. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic, all Teething Troubles and Diarrhoea. It regulates the Stomach and Bowels, assimilates the Food, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By E. O. SELLERS, Acting Director of Sunday School Course, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.)
(Copyright, 1916, Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR NOVEMBER 19

FROM MELITA TO ROME.

LESSON TEXT—Acts 28:11-31.
GOLDEN TEXT—I am not ashamed of the gospel; for it is the power of God unto salvation to everyone that believeth.—Rom. 1:16.

In this lesson we see somewhat of the human side of Paul's character. No man appreciated fellowship more than he. Look up Acts 17:15; 18:5; I Cor. 7:6; I Thess. 3:1, 2; II Tim. 4:21. I. The Sea Journey (vv. 11-14). Paul left Melita (Malta), probably February, A. D. 60. From there to Syracuse was a distance of between 80 and 100 miles. From the island of Syracuse (now a part of Italy) to Rhegium was one day's sail. From Rhegium to Puteoli was 180 miles. Puteoli (modern Pozzuoli) is in the Bay of Naples, eight miles from the modern city of Naples. Paul and his band who had done so much for the Maltese were specially honored with many honors. (v. 10.)

In these verses we have a picture of Paul seeking out his brethren wherever he went, thanking God and taking courage as they came to meet with him and converse with him. It is a picture upon which we ought to ponder deeply and be grateful that it reveals to us a side of Paul little known and appreciated.

II. The Land Journey (vv. 14, 15). At Puteoli, Paul and his companions began their march to 140 miles to the city of Rome. After a march of 60 miles they reached the famous Appii Forum, i. e., "The market of Appius." Here Paul is met by the first delegation from the church at Rome, who were waiting to welcome him and Luke and escort them to the capital city. A second delegation met them at the Three Taverns, or "The Three Shops," as we would call stores in the modern sense. These Christians had come at no small cost, as they had to walk 46 miles to the Appii Forum and 33 to the Three Taverns, and then walk the same distance back to the city. Thus it was that the sight of these friends cheered Paul and he thanked God. We can well imagine the joy of those souls, the communion enjoyed by those pilgrims as they journeyed toward the imperial city.

We can see in the letters which Paul wrote from Rome plain signs of his longing for sympathetic friends and can imagine how he must have felt upon being thus greeted on his journey. We can also imagine something of the blessing and inspiration which must have come to those Christians who met this famous soldier of the cross and had the privilege of escorting him to the city.

III. In Rome (vv. 16-29). Having entered into the city the centurion Julius, who had become a friend of Paul, delivered the prisoners to the captain of the guard. This officer we are told was a liberal-minded man, one of the few good people in the corrupt life of the city. Paul was probably first taken to the forum, which was the center of imperial power and magnificence and near which was the "house of Caesar." (Phil. 4:22.) Paul was not sent to prison for it was against the law to put a Roman into prison without a trial, but he was permitted to dwell by himself in "his own hired house." Of course, there was a soldier who guarded him. This was the city where Paul had so long desired to preach the Gospel. (Rom. 1:14-16.) As in other places, he first turned to the Jews; for he loved his own people no matter how much he had suffered at their hands. He got them together that he might preach unto them Jesus and sought to conciliate them.

In Paul's preaching he always emphasized that a Messiah was risen from the dead as a guaranty of all other resurrections. In his day, as in this present one, there were those who spoke against this, and yet that resurrection was to conquer the world and to save it from moral ruin. Those present had had no word out of Judea. (v. 21.) At a later and a public meeting (v. 23) there came unto him, that is, into his lodgings, great numbers to whom Paul sounded the Gospel of the kingdom and gave his personal testimony. He proved out of the law of Moses and out of the prophets, common ground for them all, that the Messiah had truly come, the prophecies of the kingdom of God had been fulfilled, and that Jesus by his life and death and teaching had shown the Jews how perfectly the latter were fulfilled. This Paul did from morning till evening, following the same line as in his speech before Agrippa and in other places where he had been testifying. All of his explanations and testimonials centered in Jesus. It was no abstract mental theory for an improved order of society but a definite reign of a definite person, Jesus of Nazareth. Paul is a great example for any Bible student to follow.

As on so many other occasions, Paul's preaching caused a division. (v. 20.)

And again he turns to the Gentiles. (v. 28.)

Paul told them plainly what lay at the root of their unbelief (v. 27), and though they refused the salvation it was none the less of God.

LISTEN FOR CACKLE OF HEN

Feed Fowls in Accordance With Demands of Nature as Propounded by Poultry Experts.

Listen for the cackle of your hen. It has a money value to you.

The winter season is approaching, when the price of eggs will advance and the cackle will become of even greater significance to you.

Plan for the cackle, feed the hens in accordance with the demands of nature as propounded by the experts who have spent their lives in the work.

If the cackle is not heard with sufficient frequency ask yourself why. Dig down and study the subject for the more you study the oftener the hen will cackle, and cackling means more eggs and a bigger bank account.

It is the law of nature that a hen should lay, and cackle. She should lay often and do much cackling, for that, too, is nature's law.

But she will not lay unless she receives proper food and care, and therein lies the wisdom of the man who thinks before he acts.

Get hold of some good literature, read up on the subject of egg production, apply the knowledge you thus obtain, and in the end you will learn to experience a keen delight in every cackle of your hens.

Your hen wants to cackle—she will cackle, if you give her a chance. And there's money in the cackle of a hen.

BEST TURKEYS FOR BREEDING

Error for Farmer to Feed Stock Fowls With Those Intended for the Holiday Market.

It is a great mistake for the farmer to feed his stock turkeys with those intended for the holiday markets, yet so many of them do. It is the worst thing in the world to do. Before the turkeys are made ready for market make choice of the turkeys you expect to keep over for breeding purposes and choose your very best. Place these somewhere away from the rest, and while you keep them in fine condition by feeding corn, wheat and oats, the latter, if boiled, forming a healthy ration for turkeys, do not seek to lay on the fat you want on the market turkeys. This is why stock turkeys often die in the winter, simply because they were fattened until the liver broke down and became diseased because of its own fat.

BEST CHICKENS FOR CAPONS

Fowls Hatched in May and June Are Favored—Cockerels Are Valuable as Broilers.

Chickens hatched in May and June are better for capons, as the earlier cockerels are worth too much as broilers from two to four pounds to caponize and hold over until the capon market opens up, which is from about the middle of January until about the middle of March. At the age of eight or nine months a capon from larger varieties of chickens will weigh from seven to twelve pounds. For the last few years live capons have sold from 18 to 25 cents per pound and the rooster from 6 to 9 cents per pound.

Other uses may be made of the capon, for, with a little encouragement, he will mother a brood of little chicks, cluck and scratch for them as their real mother would. A rather queer sight to see. He has also been made to sit with good results by some poultrymen.

CREATION OF FERTILE EGGS

One Male to Ten or Fifteen Hens Is Average Ratio With Small Breeds, Such as Leghorns.

The following ratio of male to females may be expected to produce fertile eggs under average conditions: Small breeds, such as Leghorn, one male to 10 or 15 females; medium-size breed, such as Plymouth Rock and Rhode Island Red, one male to 8 or 10 females, and heavy breeds, like Brahma, one male to six or eight females. The activity of the individual male is, of course, a governing factor.

POULTRY FACTS

BEAUTY AND EGGS COMBINED

Puzzling Question as to Whether These Desirable Qualities Are Found in Same Hen.

(By T. E. QUISENBERRY, Kansas City, President of American School of Poultry Husbandry.)

Can utility and beauty be combined in the same fowl, or, in other words, is it possible to combine egg production and standard requirements? If not, we had better change the standard where necessary. It is said that the life of the average fancier is three years. If this be true, it is our duty to get busy and help him develop ways and means by which he will be enabled to make more dollars and cents and thus stay longer in the business which he has chosen and in which we are all pleased to have him engage.

We hear many arguing for and against the question of combining "utility and beauty." Instead of saying it cannot be done, had we not better be trying to harmonize and combine these two desirable qualities?

A hen that never laid an egg would naturally be expected to score some higher than a hen of the same variety that laid a great many eggs, but we would rather have a hen that scored 90 and laid 200 eggs than to have one scoring 94 that laid only 90 eggs. The man is either prejudiced or narrow minded who would attempt to discourage the breeders from making an attempt to combine these two qualities in all varieties of poultry. The standard of perfection calls for 100 points for each variety. No one ever saw a bird or perhaps ever will see one that is perfect or would score 100 points. But that is no reason why we should discourage breeders in their efforts to breed more perfect specimens. It is just as sensible to do that, however, as it is to try to tell them they cannot combine utility and beauty to a greater degree than they are found in the average flock at the present time. The thing to do is to make the effort and quit arguing about it. We are convinced that it can be done. If it cannot be then it is high time we had that certified.

Today, eight or more of our leading state colleges of agriculture and universities are putting on contests and hundreds of progressive poultrymen are having their birds officially trapped. The breeder who has a good egg record and a good show record back of his birds is the one who is getting the business.

FEED DURING MOLTING TIME

Partially Starving Hens to Make Them Lose Feathers at One Time Is Not Good Practice.

Hens should be fed liberally during the molting season. Partially starving the hens to make them lose as far as possible all their feathers at one time, thus straining the vitality of the fowls to provide entire new growths of feathers so quickly, is not a good practice.

The method may be good when followed by an expert, but ordinarily it injures the flock. As a rule, a reasonably long molting period, during which time the birds are well cared for, produces the best results. Sunflower seed, oil meal and other oily feeds fed during the molting season aid in the growth of feathers.

CLEAN WATER IS NECESSARY

Keep Drinking Fountains in Cool Place and Give Fresh Supply Three Times Daily.

Cool, clean water is necessary for all kinds of poultry, young and old, at this season of the year. Therefore, keep the drink dishes clean and disinfect them frequently and give a fresh supply of cool water, with the fountain in a shady place, at least three times a day.

BEGINNING MUST BE SMALL

Poultry Farms Will Be Successful When Properly Built and Managed—More Are Needed.

This country needs more poultry farms, and they will be successful when properly built and managed.

But the beginning must be small and the growth gradual, so that every part of the work is promptly noted and correctly performed.

Does Backache Worry You?

Some Bedford People Have Learned How To Get Relief.

How many people suffer from an aching back? How few know the cause? If it hurts to stoop or lift—If you suffer sudden, darting pains if you are weak, lame and tired. Suspect your kidneys. Watch for nature's signal. The first sign may be headache or dizziness.

Scanty, painful or too frequent urination. Nervousness or a constant, dead-tired feeling.

Avert the serious kidney diseases. Treat the weakened kidneys with Doan's Kidney Pills.

A remedy especially for sick kidneys. Endorsed in Bedford by your friends and neighbors.

Mrs. John Harnishfager, 313 E. John St., Bedford, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills for backaches and kidney weakness and they have benefited me more than any other medicine I have ever tried. Another one of the family has also used Doan's Kidney Pills and is now entirely free from all symptoms of kidney trouble. We give Doan's Kidney Pills the credit for the benefit received."

The above statement must carry conviction to the mind of every reader. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mrs. Harnishfager had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Special Demonstration and sale GREAT MAJESTIC --- RANGES ---

"The Range With a Reputation"

For one week only

Commencing
Monday, November 20 to 25

During this week we will have a special demonstrator from the Majestic Factory to explain how the Majestic is made and why it is absolutely the best range; why it lasts longer and cuts down repair expenses; why it bakes bread evenly, top, sides and bottom without turning; why it uses so little fuel and saves food waste. He will explain its labor saving construction and why it heats an abundance of water good and hot—a mighty convenient and useful thing to have a big supply of hot water always on hand isn't it.

To buy a range by mail is almost certain to end in disappointment and loss of money. It may be "exactly as represented" yet not be what you thought it was nor what you wanted.

Here you can see every part of the Majestic—you can know what you are getting before you buy. Decide now that you will discontinue using that old, worn-out range. You will save money in fuel, repairs and cooking. Buy a Majestic—the range with 25 years' reputation. The demonstrator will answer any questions relating to stoves.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1916.

Coal is going down now. It was a raise to coerce voters. It worked in Pennsylvania and New York, but not in the West. It seems the people are not as farsighted in the East as in the West.

There is nothing in the election returns to show that the American people want the whole Democratic accomplishment wiped off the record as Mr. Hughes threatened. He mistook the desires of standpatters among his own backers for a national verdict.

With an admitted Democratic majority in the next United States Senate, the gentlemen in Wall Street and elsewhere who want to rip the Federal Reserve Banking and Currency Law have already conceded defeat and are getting ready to take their medicine.

The woman member of the next House of Representatives from Montana will be much more than a pioneer for her sex in Congress. She will be a constant reminder to the Republicans of what happened to their Presidential candidate west of the Mississippi.

One of the first of the great issues raised by Mr. Hughes in the late campaign was that the reluctant acceptance by the President of the temporary resignation of Myron T. Herrick as Ambassador to France was an infamous outrage. Acting upon this suggestion, the Republicans of Ohio nominated Mr. Herrick for United States Senator for the purpose of vindicating him. In spite of the well-advised efficiency of the German vote in that State, Mr. Pomeroy, a plain American of Democratic proclivities, has been re-elected by a thumping majority.

On last Wednesday morning Theodore Roosevelt assured the people of the United States, and the world that he wasn't going to advise Hughes in any way concerning the policies of his administration nor the appointments he should make.

That was very modest Theodore. "In the interest of accuracy and honesty the fact should be noted that aside from the South, the Wilson majorities are coming mainly from the territory in which Mr. Bryan did his campaigning this year."

The above is another confession of the superiorities of a man whom the New York World has maligned for years. Mr. Bryan is the people's friend as Mr. Wilson was the people's candidate and the people listened to Mr. Bryan.

VANCE McCORMICK

The voters who have re-elected President Wilson owe to Vance McCormick, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, an expression of approval and gratitude.

By hard work intelligently directed and by unwavering zeal and courage, even in the face of seeming defeat, he has gained for himself a distinguished place among managing politicians. Above all else, his methods have been as clean, open and honorable as they are now proved to have been sagacious and successful.

Generalship of this character ought to be fittingly recognized everywhere. To direct the affairs of a great party, to raise and expend large sums of money and to win a notable victory in a contest unusually close and bitter without a hint of scandal, meanness or folly are achievements entitling Mr. McCormick to the highest consideration of his countrymen. For such a man there should be great opportunities for public service.

I wish to express my profound gratitude as an American proud of his country, that the American people have repudiated the man who coined the phrase about his country—that is, "Too proud to fight."—Theodore Roosevelt Tuesday night.

"Repudiated" him by giving him some 1,550,000 more votes than in 1912. Or about 3,700,000 more than the Colonel himself received.

Coal prices have begun to retreat down the ladder. For explanation one may make his choice. The work of Federal investigators or the fact that the election is over and it is no longer of political use to exasperate the people. There may be truth in both of them.

Hereafter it is probable a Justice of the Supreme Court tempted to leave the bench for politics will look and think twice before leaping.

The Colonel's efforts as a campaigner were uniformly successful. He travelled clear to Arizona and spoke at Phoenix, and Arizona went for Wilson. He spoke at Gallup, N. M., and New Mexico swung into the Democratic column. He spoke at Denver, and Colorado made a new record with its Democratic majority. He spoke in Kansas and Kansas for the first time since 1896 gave its electoral vote to the Democratic candidate for President. He spoke in Maine, and the normal Republican majority fell off 50 per cent. A little more assistance from the Colonel might have made things practically unanimous wherever he stopped.

Worse and more of it! The Old Guard is not even to have the satisfaction of claiming the popular vote for Hughes.

Nobody was for Wilson—but the people.

Probably if the Colonel were to be altogether frank he would say that the result was due chiefly to Mr. Hughes's ineptitude.

George W. Perkins's children will survive the turn of events, but there is an excellent chance that Jeremiah O'Leary's brother will remain submerged.

The bettors who lost can now charge it upon Maine. The Pine Tree State is no longer a sure indication of public sentiment. A hundred millions of people are not swayed in their sentiments by those who happen to vote a month or two earlier than they do.

Which Do You Prefer?

It is important for reasons of health and practical economy for every housekeeper to ask herself this question:

"Do I prefer a pure baking powder like Royal, made of cream of tartar derived from grapes, or am I willing to use a baking powder made of alum or phosphate, both derived from mineral sources?"

The names of the ingredients printed on the label show whether the kind you are now using or any brand, new or old, that may be offered is a genuine cream of tartar powder, or merely a phosphate or alum compound.

Royal Baking Powder contains no alum nor phosphate.

The exact formula on every can

Even an expert cannot tell by looking at varnish whether it is adulterated. That is why it is so important that you should always buy varnish with a guarantee formula.

DEVOE
VERNOSITE THE LONG LIFE
PALE INTERIOR VARNISH
MARBLE FLOOR FINISH

For outside work and all surfaces exposed to water, use Vernosite. It will not turn white from rain or sleet and the sun will not blister it.

For inside woodwork where extremely transparent varnish is required, use Pale Interior. It preserves the natural beauty of the wood, is hard to mar and won't scratch white.

For all floors use Marble Floor Finish. It waterproofs the wood, and enables it to withstand the severest wear and tear without marring.

We strongly recommend these three varnishes, because the guarantee formulas on the cans prove that they have been properly aged and that they are absolutely free from rosin and other adulterants.

Never take chances with varnish. Get Devoe and be sure.

AN HONEST CONFESSION

The results shows that the American people are not so easily deceived, that they cannot be arbitrarily classed into groups and factions and delivered to any candidate at the bidding of demagogues, and it demonstrates beyond question that the national honor has not been stifled by the spirit of selfish and sordid commercialism.

The above clipping was taken from the Philadelphia Public Ledger of last week and is a graceful and dignified and intelligent confession that the Republican party has been trying to fool the people all through the campaign, that Roosevelt tried to deliver the Progressives of the nation to Hughes' embrace and that it was a fake argument that our national honor has been surrendered by the present administration.

We like to read confessions like that and learn that the people of the East are now waking up to the fact that a high protection tariff is not beneficial to the working classes and poor classes, in other words, the masses. High protection means millions for the millionaires and nothing else and the big corporate interests knew that the people of Pennsylvania if left to vote their will would repudiate the idea of protection at the polls so they summoned their agents to interview all their employees and leave them word as to the way they wanted them to vote.

With all the millions at their command and all the corporate influence they could muster up, enough Pennsylvania citizens had the backbone to vote as they saw fit and reduce their presidential majority by 150,000, and put Bedford County down to a narrow margin of 474, which was at one time 1600.

Roosevelt nor his followers could neither blind the nearly 70,000 Progressives to the fact that President Wilson was their best Progressive and that Wilson had passed more constructive progressive legislation in three years than Roosevelt did in seven or Taft in four and that legislation was a lasting benefit to the common people so far as a general law could effect everybody.

The Store for Quality and Service

Coming to Bedford Of Special Interest to the Sick

Dr. Rhoads of Pittsburgh, specialist in chronic diseases, will be at the Grand Central Hotel, Bedford, Pa. on Tuesday, Nov. 21, giving all who are sick an opportunity to consult this eminent specialist free of charge and get his advice and treatment right at your house. Dr. Rhoads has decided on this place by request of people living here, who otherwise would not have the chance to consult him. I realize that a visit to Pittsburgh to see me would be a hardship on the sick, therefore I come to you, believing that more good can be accomplished to see the largest number of sick. I ask therefore, all who need the service of an expert specialist in chronic and long-standing diseases to call and see me, consult me free of charge, get my advice, and if I find, after examining you, that I cannot cure you I will gladly tell you, and if your case is curable, which in 90 per cent, with my new treatment get well, I will accept your case. Remember, I make you no promises that I cannot do, my rule is to give you exactly what I agree.

WHAT I CURE

I cure Rheumatism in one month no matter how long standing. I give you relief at once. My treatment removes the cause of it, purifies the blood, relieves the kidneys at once.

I CURE Kidney and Bladder troubles. If you have Kidney troubles, pain in back, urine highly colored, dark sediment, pain along spine, weak back and headaches, come to me and let me show you why I can give you a cure—does the urine burn you, pass it too frequently, pains in bladder and prostrate gland? I can relieve you at once and give you a permanent cure. This is especially the trouble with middle-aged persons, and if neglected causes more distressing pains as you grow older. I cure this in a very short time.

DO YOU SUFFER FROM STOMACH OR LIVER TROUBLES?

Have you pains after eating, does your food disagree with you, suffer from constipation and gases in the bowels? Then, come and consult me. I will cure you in one month, complete restoration to health. My treatment is different from the old pills and nauseous medicines you have been taking. It cures.

SKIN AND BLOOD DISEASES

If you have blood poison, which causes eruptions, pimples, sore throat, eczema, and all rash and sores, no matter how long you have been sick, I can cure you of the disease; many cases with one treatment.

DISEASES OF WOMEN

I positively cure all unnatural conditions that you may be suffering from. My home treatment has been used by thousands with benefit in every case. Come and let me advise you and a cure awaits you.

I cure Lung trouble, Nervous diseases, Epilepsy, Catarrh, Piles and all chronic and special diseases

DISEASES OF MEN

YOUNG MEN—I especially invite men who are sick, nervous, weak, despondent, lost all ambition, no desire for work or pleasure, I want you to call and get my special advice. I cure blood diseases, weaknesses, losses and drains stopped in ten days. Ulcers, loss of ambition, nervous debility, lack of energy, and all special diseases of a private nature. Consult me confidentially and I assure you of a permanent and lasting cure. No matter how long you have been sick or the nature of your disease.

REMEMBER

I will make regular monthly visits to your town, and no matter what your disease is I want you to come in and consult me. I have treated only chronic diseases for 25 years, and if you are sick and you need the advice and care of a man who has had the proper training and experience to cure you.

The date is Tuesday, Nov. 21, at the Grand Central Hotel from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Tuxedo Nights by Walt Mason

When the day's work's done, and the good old sun has sunk in the well known West, then I stretch my form by the fireside warm, I sit at my ease and rest. Then I take my pipe which is mildly ripe, as the pipes of good smokers are, with a chortling soul then I fill its bowl from my glass Tuxedo jar. And I smoke at ease, and my trouble flees to the place where dead troubles go; and my worries seem, in my waking dream no longer to have a show. And I say, "Indeed, it's a noble weed that drives all the ghosts away, and clamps the lid on the cares that skid around through the busy day. The worries and woes and such things as those in the daytime leave their scar, but there's rest at night and a calm delight in my glass Tuxedo jar."

ROOSEVELT BOOM FOR 1920 RISES

Republican Followers
Say He Will Loom as Party's Commanding
Figure

MOOSE GRIEVE LITTLE AT VOTE

Prediction Is That Oyster Bay Man
Will Come to Front Automatically
As Nominee of G. O. P.—Former Bolter Is Now Regular.

New York, Nov. 10.—Upon the wreckage of their old organization the Roosevelt Republicans have begun the erection of the new presidential fortunes of Mr. Roosevelt. Without restriction they now say he will loom quickly as the commanding figure in the "Grand Old Party," that he will, by virtue of being the complete antithesis of the President, automatically come to the front as the nominee of 1920.

The collapse of the Republican organization was no stunning surprise to the Progressives in the East. It was no crushing disappointment to many of them. The defeat of the Republican national ticket meant less to them than it meant to Republicans who stood stunch through the trying days of 1912. In fact, there were not a few Progressive Republicans connected with the Republican national campaign who foresaw defeat and in the seclusion of their own chambers chuckled over it. Their mental attitude toward the whole campaign dated back to the convention which defeated Mr. Roosevelt and nominated Mr. Hughes. There has been no intimation that these Progressives were in any way treacherous. Those who worked in the campaign were regular in every way, but there was a perfunctoriness in their manner and devotion which probably would have been lacking if they had not been disappointed and grieved at the record of the Chicago gathering in June.

No Secret

No secret was made of the belief among Eastern Progressive Republicans last night that Mr. Roosevelt's campaign for the next Republican nomination will be started at once—that, in fact, it is already under way. He was a candidate for the nomination this year. There was a confident feeling among his close friends up to within two weeks of the meeting of the national delegates in Chicago that he would get it. There was a strong sentiment for him in many parts of the country, but there was a much stronger feeling the other way among the Republican leaders who laid full blame for the defeat of 1912 at his door. Many of them went to Chicago determined to thwart the program to nominate Mr. Roosevelt, even if by sidetracking him they invited certain defeat in November. When this stolid opposition became apparent Mr. Roosevelt himself realized he could not be nominated, but his friends continued their battle right up to the eve of the convention, and then fell in with the leading Republicans, who had decided their nominee should be Mr. Hughes, who was at once the most distinguished and respected Republican of national measure in the entire party.

Tragic Gathering

The story of the thirteenth meeting of the Progressive convention in Chicago on the day that Mr. Hughes was nominated in the Republican meeting will always live in memory as one of the most tragic gatherings of "crusaders" ever held in the nation. Mr. Roosevelt declined their nomination. The Western and Middle Western delegates went home disappointed and resentful at both Mr. Roosevelt and the Republican party, and this feeling was reflected in the drift of Progressives in many Western States to the Democratic ticket on Tuesday.

Mr. Roosevelt now stands forth as a regular Republican. He was formerly enrolled as a Progressive. Now he is again a full fledged Republican, and he worked for the election of the national ticket. Although it is believed by the Republicans that his speeches on Mexico, on Belgium and on the general obligation of the United States to protect the international rights of nations unable to look after themselves drove many Republicans away from the ticket, there can be no criticism of Mr. Roosevelt's campaign. He made many speeches during the campaign.

Mr. Roosevelt will be but slightly more than sixty years old in 1920. He will be in the best years of his life. His friends and acquaintances all admit that he wants to be President again. Those who would discuss the matter last night said he undoubtedly will be President again. If Mr. Hughes were in the White House for four years the chances are that he would be renominated and that Mr. Roosevelt would not again come into the Presidential spotlight as he now unquestionable has.

Four years ahead in politics is ordinarily a fading perspective, but not in Presidential politics when Mr. Roosevelt is concerned.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 10.—A quotation from Romeo and Juliet was incorporated in Vice President Marshall's telegram of congratulation to President Wilson. The telegram follows.

"'Tis not so deep as a well nor so wide as a church door; but 'tis enough and 'twill serve.'"

"Mrs. Marshall joins me in heartfelt congratulation to Mrs. Wilson and yourself."

Totals 6203120 8563713 8160401

Wilson has a popular plurality of over 400,000 the largest popular plurality ever given to a president for re-election. He made the largest gains ever known in history. His election is the first since Jackson's to win without New York. It proves that the South and West are sternly opposed to a High Tariff.

It breaks the power of Wall Street forever. The rich class cannot coerce the poor class and the farmer, except in Bedford County, where they vote them in droves, is thinking and voting for himself. Wilson carried all but two of the states which voted "dry" and we now have 24 dry states, 12 less than a two-third's vote.

EDUCATOR, STATES- MAN, ORATOR, SKETCH OF WOODROW WILSON

The Man Who Swallowed Up the Democratic Party and Taught it New Ideas and Supreme Leadership and Was Not Afraid to Depart From Tradition

Woodrow Wilson, twenty-seventh President of the United States, and eighth Chief Executive from Virginia was fifty-nine years old December 28 of last year. The little town of Staunton, in the state which has been the mother of more presidents than any other, has the honor of having been his birthplace.

Whether history will hold Mr. Wilson to have been one of our greatest Presidents only posterity may know. Americans today are too close to the events of his administration to give an impartial opinion. It is safe to say however, that among his important works as a statesman so far have been, first, his conquest of the New Jersey bosses when Governor of that state; second, the present tariff law; third, the Federal Reserve Bank Act; and fourth, the diplomatic negotiations growing out of the European war.

Although Mr. Wilson is a Southerner born and bred, he has spent most of his active career in the North. His grandfather was James Wilson, a Scotchman who settled in Philadelphia. Mr. Wilson's ancestry is almost entirely Scotch and Scotch-Irish. James Wilson left Philadelphia for Steubenville, Ohio, where he established a newspaper and practiced law. Here the President's father, Joseph R. Wilson, was born. Later he moved to Staunton. He married Jessie Woodrow. The future President's parents moved to Georgia when the boy was about two years old, and there his youthful eyes saw something of the troubled events of the Civil War.

After the war the family moved to South Carolina, where Woodrow spent a year in Davidson College. He remained at home the next year and in 1875 entered Princeton University. Here he proved a splendid student. His specialties were political economy history and debating.

He sprang into notice on one occasion when chosen in the preliminary contest to represent his college in debate against a rival. Young Wilson was jubilant until he saw the subject was "Protection Versus Free Trade." The Princetonians were to uphold protection. As Wilson was an ardent free-trader, he refused to compete, a brave act both because he gave up the chance of winning a coveted prize and because his attitude made him unpopular with some of the students.

He also drew notice while a student in Princeton by an article in the "International Review" in which he condemned the secret committee practices of Congress.

Among his classmates when he was graduated in 1879 were Mahlon C. Pitney, later Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court, and William F. McCombs, who managed Wilson's first contest for the Presidency and was defeated for election to the United States Senate from New York State this year.

In 1880 Wilson entered the University of Virginia to study law. He also debated and sang in the Glee Club.

After two years here, Wilson was admitted to the bar and with another young man started the law firm of Renick & Wilson in Atlantic, Ga. Business does not seem to have been brisk, for in the next year, 1883, Wilson entered Johns Hopkins University at Baltimore to study history and political economy and obtain the degree of Doctor of Philosophy. At Johns Hopkins he also published his first book, "Congressional Government," and elaboration of his Princeton essay mentioned above. On June 24, 1885, married Miss Ellen Louise Axson, of Savannah, Ga.

Now came three years as instructor at Bryn Mawr and then two years at Wesleyan University in Middlebury, Conn. While at Wesleyan he published his second book, "The State," and also delivered occasional lectures at Johns Hopkins.

In the fall of 1890 he began his long association with Princeton University. He entered the faculty to take a chair of jurisprudence and politics, and in 1902 was elected President. In his early years at Princeton he completed his greatest work, "History of the American People."

As President of Princeton he was a national figure and constantly in the public print. He fought the aristocratic traditions of the University with much energy. He totally changed the social life of the students, introducing many ideas taken from the great British universities.

Certain New Jersey political bosses thought he would be a useful man as Governor. Mr. Wilson did not seek the nomination but when the Democratic Convention chose him, he declared it his duty to accept.

He proved a remarkable campaigner. The bosses who had picked him as their candidate smiled when he told the people he elected that he would consider himself the leader of the state's democracy. They thought he did not mean it. But Mr. Wilson had not long been Governor, when they found out their mistake. To their surprise, the ex-college president proved somewhat of a radical, condemning the state's legislature and refusing to mind the bosses.

He exposed the initiative and referendum, stating that the views he had held against these innovations while lecturer at Princeton had been mistaken.

The result of Wilson's term as Governor (1911-1913) was a series of anti-monopoly law, called the "Seven Sisters," a primary election law, corrupt-practice act, employers' liability act, public utilities act, municipal commission government act and sterilization act.

Mr. McCombs appears to have been the "original Wilson man." He was sure he saw in the energetic Governor "presidential timber." He began to lineup his friends and come to the Baltimore Democratic convention of 1912 with a few pledged delegates.

That convention developed into a protracted struggle. Champ Clark had more than a majority of votes on the 10th ballot, but Mr. Wilson's vote kept growing until on the forty-sixth ballot he received the necessary two-thirds.

With William W. Taft and Theodore Roosevelt dividing his opponents, Mr. Wilson was easily elected. On his entry into office he immediately took up the question of changing the tariff and the Underwood act was the result. The credit for this should go mostly to Mr. Wilson.

Mr. Wilson believes in personal contact between the people and their officials. He put this idea into effect by going to the Capitol to read his messages, breaking all precedents in this respect.

The Mexican troubles have engaged a large share of President Wilson's attention. He decided the Mexicans should be allowed to put their house in order without outside interference.

Before He Shaved

"One last look at your face," she said. "I want to remember you as you once were." For she knew that he was an unskilful shaver. Then she got him his cup of lather and proceedings began.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Other Bill

Bill Smith, a country storekeeper, went to the city to buy goods. They were sent immediately and reached home before he did. When the boxes were delivered Mrs. Smith, who was keeping the store, uttered a scream, seized a hatchet and began frantically to open the largest one. "What's the matter, Mandy?" said one of the bystanders, who had watched her in amazement.

Pale and faint, Mrs. Smith pointed to an inscription on the box. It read: "Bill inside."

Good Rule to Follow

If we are ever in doubt what to do, it is a good rule to ask ourselves what we shall wish on the morrow that we had done.
